Expose Your Blind Spots

Expose your blind spots and watch them disappear!

Do you have a particular strength that you tend to over-utilize? Think carefully about how you address situations and challenges. For example, are you always tactical, or do you tend to be pushy or aggressive in getting your solution to the top of the pile?

Write down your most prominent strength: _____

What underutilized skills can you stretch, in order to give yourself a menu of methods for handling challenges? Think of four things and write them down here.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

Take action. Do any other blind spots that were mentioned in the article ring true for you? What simple actions can you take to eliminate those blind spots? A few simple actions implemented consistently have far more power than an elaborate plan you find difficult to follow.
